AXIS MOVE ON TOWARD EGYPT QUICKLY AFTER FALL STRONGHOLD OF TOBRUK

NAZI MECHANIZED FORCES CLASH WITH BRITISH NEAR BORDER

FALL OF MEDITERRANEAN PORT SEVERE BLOW TO BRITISH PRESTIGE

By EDWARD KENNEDY

CAIRO, Egypt, June 22.—(AP)—Driving forward without a pause from their capture of Tobruk, Nazi mobile columns have clashed with British forces only a few miles from the Egyptian border, the British reported today, as the allied position in the entire Middle East appeared threatened by the disastrous rout in Libya.

The British command said the clash occurred 12 miles northwest of Fort Capuzzo, which is just across the border in Libya.

It was indicated that a few of the garrison troops—British, South Africans and Indians—had escaped from the Tobruk disaster. Some small craft moved out of the harbor while it was under shellfire from German tanks and other parties fought their way through enemy formations in the desert.

(The Germans declared they have destroyed a British naval formation of small ships leaving the harbor.)

Isolated parties also were reported continuing resistance.

The booty gained by the Germans still was not known here, but it was reported that great explosions occurred in the last hours of Tobruk's resistance, indicating quantities of material were destroyed.

One of the gains of the Germans was a recently built extension of the desert railway to a point south of Tobruk. This formerly reached only to Matruh in Egypt, 120 miles from the border. Retreating troops were reported to have torn up stretches of the railway, however.

Axis Airforce Busy

The Egyptian government issued an order today to check the downward trend of the Cairo stock market.

The axis air forces, following up quickly their success in Libya, bombed the Egyption coast between Sidi Barrani and Fuka.

As the battered British survivors of the bloody Libyan campaign worked feverishly to strengthen their positions along the Egyptian border, military quarters here considered the probable truth of axis claims that 25,000 of Ritchie's men have been captured by the combined German-Italian forces which completed occupation of Tobruk yesterday.

There was no denial either of official reports from Berlin that German troops had pushed on from Tobruk to capture Bil El Gobi, a desert track center 40 miles to the southeast, and the port of Bardia, only eight miles from the Egyptian border.

While some British forces were still operating west of the Egyptian frontier, virtually the whole of Libya was presumably to all intents in axis hands It was expected here that Field Marshal Er-

CONFERENCES ARE BEING CONTINUED AT WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(AP)—Vital conferences between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill were described today by the White House as progressing day and night in a "very satisfactory way" and it was disclosed that the two United Nations leaders expected to issue a joint statement later on.

They are conferring togeher and also with military, naval and air experts of both countries.

This much was disclosed by Presidential Secretary Stephen Early. But he had nothing to add on specific details of the conferences, such as whether Mr. Roosevelt and the prime minister were focusing their attention primarily on the question of opening a second fighting front in Europe or on possible steps to stave off an even more decisive defeat at the hands of the axis armies in North Africa.

The statement from Early that conferences still were continuing was the first word about the secret deliberations of the President and Churchill since the latter arrived in this country Thursday.

"I can simply say this,' Early told reporters "The conferences are continuing in a very orderly and a very satisfactory way. Neither the Prime Minister nor the President feels they have reached a point in their talks where any public istatements can be made As soon as that point has been reached, you may expect a joint statement from them.

"The conferences are continuing day and night, and between the British and American staffs working under their guidance, but holding at times separate conferences,

Motorists Find No Gasoline at Many Stations

By The Associated Press

Dry gasoline pumps stranded thousands of motorists along the Atlantic seaboard yesterday (Sunday) as summer's first week-end brought an increase in travel and exhausting demands on filling stations.

As harried dealers hung out "no gas" signs, drivers with empty tanks were forced to leave their cars parked at the roadside or have them towed to parking lots and garages.

Philadelphia was hardest hit with all of its 3,500 stations closed by midafternoon Sunday. Many motorists, including tourists, were stranded and some war workers were unable to get to their plants.

A. Reed Engle, president of the Associated Gasoline Dealers of Philadelphia, said the shortage was caused by doubling the value of units on ration cards to six gallons without increasing the supply to stations. "We're (the operators) taking plenty of abuse," he said.

WAR BROUGHT TO PACIFIC COAST IN SHELLING 2 POINTS

SUBMARINE ATTACKS VANCOUVER ISLAND; SEASIDE, OREGON, SHELLED

By The Associated Press

Submarine shelling of lonely Vancouver Island in Canada's British Columbia and gunfire upon the Oregon coast from an unidentified craft lurking offshore today brought war to the doorstep of an alert and expectant Pacific northwest.

The two attacks, at points separated by several hundred miles, came almost exactly 24 hours apart. Official reports indicated that no casualties and little damage were suffered at either spot.

First target was a Dominion government radio station at Estevan Point, on the western coast of Vancouver Island. The shelling there began at 10:35 p. m. (Pacific War Time) Saturday and continued for a half hour.

"The shells landed on the beach or on the rocks well beyond the building," said Lieut.-Gen. Kenneth Stuart, commander-in-chief of Canadian west coast defenses. "A few windows in the radio office were broken by the concussion."

Then, at 11:30 o'clock last night, residents from Seaside on the ocean to Astoria on the Columbia river, at the northwest tip of Oregon, were awakened by the sound of gunfire and the whine of speeding missiles.

No Casualties.

"Six to nine shells landed in the area north of Seaside," the army said in a communique from western defense headquarters at San Francisco, "apparently from an unidentified craft offshore. Firing lasted 15 minutes. No damage or casualties reported."

Eyewitness Oregonians agreed with the army that the firing had been of no effect, but many felt certain they had heard more than nine shots.

One was Robert Lucas, associate editor of the Astoria Budget.

Awakened by the sound, he said, "I hurried upstairs to have a look toward the sea, and heard from 12 to 16 shots. The shells seemed to be landing somewhere with a great thud, but I couldn't tell what the objective was."

Lucas and others also told of seeing flashes from a gun or guns, which the editor described as "bright orange and fan-shaped" and much like lightning playing on the horizon.

No shells landed in Astoria, Seaside or any other community, so far as could be determined from residents in the 30-mile area.

The army's announcement that they fell "north of Seaside" suggested they might have plowed uselessly into some part of the 16 miles of sandy wastelands between the ocean city and the Columbia river.

Royal Canadian and American naval units were reported to have launched an immediate hunt for the submarine, presumably Japanese, which attacked Estevan Point.

Only 33 persons, most of them employes of the radio station or a nearby lighthouse, live at lonely Estevan Point, a rocky promontory which juts six miles out into the Pacific ocean.

Coastal residents of Washington and Oregon were ordered to dim lights which could be seen from the sea.

SECOND YEAR OF WAR BEGINS ON RUSSIAN FRONT—A year ago—June 22, 1941—Hitler launched his attack on Russia, an attack which progressed steadily until the German armies were stopped late in November on the thresholds of Moscow and Leningrad. This map summarizes the first year of battle. The start of Hitler's attack was marked by three main sweeps: To Leningrad, toward Moscow via Smolensk, and through the Ukraine with multi-pronged drives. Broken line shows fartherest gains made by Nazis up to December. Through the winter Reds kept hammering at the Leningrad-Staraya Russa sector, pecked away around the Rzhev Pocket, tried the pinchers around Smolensk, pushed the line back toward Kursk, loosed a smashing drive at Kharkov and points south—and recaptured shaded territory, including the key point of Rostov. Soviets, though losing Kerch, have marshalled sufficient forces across the strait to bar any easy Nazi advance to Caucasian oil fields and today (June 20) are still holding Sevastopol.

False Sense of Security Aroused By Naval Victory

(By The Associated Press.)

The war of diversion and harrassment in the Pacific to which Japan has been reduced by frustration of attempted invasions of Hawaii and Australia produced over the week-end two pinprick shellings of the United-States Canadian coast and word of the expansion of the Japanese foothold in the far Aleutians.

Washington announced that the enemy was establishing himself on Kiska, one of the Aleutian Islands, 585 miles from the United States navy base at Dutch Harbor.

Meanwhile in Honolulu, the commander of the Hawaiian department of the U. S. army, Lieut.-Gen. Delos C. Emmons, cautioned islanders against "a false sense of security" arising from the recent victory in the sea-air battle of Midway and urged all non-residents to leave the islands as soon as possible.

"To assume the enemy will not return in force and ulitize every weapon at his disposal is the most daugerous kind of wishful thinking," Emmons said.

USO CONTRIBUTIONS MUST INCREASE IF QUOTA IS REACHED

A partial report from Tupelo and additional local donations added $134.30 to the U. S. O. War Fund Drive Monday still leaving $8,849.44 to be collected for the $11,200 quota assigned this county.

"Navarro county citizens must respond to this call," F. C. Paul, vice - chairman said, "since there is much to be done. Our job is to make possible for the uniformed services independence from morale - shattering boredom, from unrelieved strain, and most important, from the idea that we back home are not doing our part in their behalf."

The drive, both local and national, will be concluded on July 4 and the campaign must change its pace, Paul emphasized. "Our time is short, and the goal is large and our ogligation to the men in the fighting forces is immeasureably great. Let's see that what we do is enough and that we do it on time."

Russians Admit Additional Loss Sevastopol Forts

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

MOSCOW, June 22.—(AP)—Sevastopol defenders dropped back from the north and south fortresses guarding the Crimean naval base today before enormous German pressure, exerted ceaslessly despite the heavy casualties, estimated at 100,000 which axis forces have suffered in less than three weeks.

A fresh nazi wedge was forced in the fortifications to the North where the enemy massed a huge force of infantry, artillery and tonks, press accounts said.

In the south, where the Russians had dropped back to the central lines, a furious battle was reported under way for a hill dominating the sector.

Today marked the start of the second year of the war for the Soviet. As the battle for the last remaining bit of Crimea entered its climatic stage, German vessels appeared off Sevastopol, dispatches from the beleaguered city said.

Two German torpedo cutters with speeds exceeding 45 miles an hour were reported detected by two small Russian rowboats on a mission close to the shore. The Russians claimed to have damaged one. The rowboats were said to have found an enemy submarine on the surface. The vessels could have come from Rumania, Bulgaria or the occupied Russian port of Odessa.

Collection Scrap Rubber Increases Each Day's Report

Collection of scrap rubber in Navarro county continues in a gratfying manner, W. E. McKinney, chief warden, in charge of the campaign stated Monday. An increase of slightly in excess of 9,500 pounds was noted in totals released Monday from oil companies as compared with the Saturday report to McKinney's office.

The total reported was 88,143 pounds of rubber from the oil companies as compared with 78,617 Saturday, an increase of 9526.

Warden McKinney revealed that junk yards and other places had quantities of scrap rubber that is not included in the above figures. He said Monday that Ray B. McGuire with the Tidewater Oil company in Navarro and Limestone counties was allowing schoolboys at Mildred to search around derricks

WITH TOBRUK AND SEVASTOPOL OUT OF WAY HITLER WILL DRAW NEARER TO HIS RACE FOR KILL

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst.

Marshal Rommel's capture of Tobruk, and the precarious position of Russia's great naval base at Sevastopol under furious German assault—operations vitally linked with Hitler's attempt to break into the Caucasus and Middle East—bring us appreciably nearer the moment when the nazi chief will unleash his full pack and race for a kill.

Our immediate concern is with Tobruk. The British now are back on Egyptian soil, preparing to defend their mighty base at Alexandria and block the road to the Suez Canal. Obviously the position is serious.

The London Press, surprised and angered at this defeat, demands whether there has been a blunder. That's a legitimate question, but pending further information we are entitled to say no more than that Rommel again has demonstrated that he is a master strategist and is perhaps even greater as a tactician on the actual battlefield.

Still, while the British certainly must inquire into the circumstances of the defeat, the problem now is to defend Egypt and the canal, for they must be held at all costs. We don't know how much the British have salvaged from their shattered Eighth Army which was operating in Libya, though a considerable force withdrew across the border. Apart from this, there are the Egyptian army of 40,000 well trained men and 100,000 Allied guardsmen.

So far as concerns land forces, it's doubtful whether Rommel could at this moment muster more men than the defense appears to have, although he is superior in tanks However, it seems to me that the battle for Egypt is likely to turn on air power, in which case the British presumably will depend heavily on the United States for reinforcements This doesn't mean that more troops won't also be needed, for they will, but the most pressing matter is air power.

This may be the time when Hitler will cut loose that vast air fleet which he has been groom-

Entire Position United Nations in Middle East Imperiled by Campaign

By CLYDE A. FARNSWORTH
Associated Press War Editor

With Tobruk and virtually all eastern Libya regained and with the British Eighth Army badly beaten, leaving thousands of its number in the Tobruk trap, the Axis African corps rolled eastward today against Egypt—imperiling the entire position of the United Nations in the Middle East.

An enemy column evidently feeling out the weakened British line along the Egyptian frontier clashed with British mobile units a few miles from the border, the British reported, and Rome boasted that Italian-German troops were marching against Egypt.

Trying to block further reinforcement of the already superior African corps under Marshal Rommel, the RAF lashed desperately at Rommel's forward concentration points, landing fields, and land and sea transport.

Torpedo planes hit two large enemy supply ships, firing one, and struck an escort vessel, in a convoy south of Cape Bon, Tunisia, on the Sicily-Libya sea route, the RAF reported.

Among other actions the RAF "successfully attacked large numbers of enemy transport vehicles on the Sidi Azeiz landing ground," the air communique said.

Enemy Columns Clash.

British and Axis mobile columns already had clashed yesterday near Sidi Azeiz, 12 miles northwest of the Libyan-Egyptian border strongpoint, Fort Capuzzo.

The Axis' own heavy air forces leaped the British frontier positions to strike at defense communications along the Egyptian coast between Sidi Barrani and Fuka.

Germans Declare Sevastopol Near Collapse Today

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts), June 22—(AP)—In hard street fighting, house after house in the shipbuilding section along Sewernaja Bay on Sevastopol's northern defenses were stormed by German troops today, according to high command sources.

A group of Russian forces was sorrounded and annihilated, it was said.

On the south side of Sevastopol, too, Rumanian and German troops drove a wedge into the Russian defense belt, capturing a chain of strongly fortified hills under cover of a heavy battering by artillery and anti-aircraft batteries firing horizontally, these reports said.

The German high command declared today that the entire region north of Sewernaja Bay on the northern side of Sevastopol defenses had been cleared of the defenders with the capture of the last coastal fort.

This fort was taken in a hard fight, the communique said.

"Destruction of enemy forces still resisting at the utmost tip of the isthmus is in progress," it continued.

"On the rest of the investing front German and Rumanian troops, supported by the luftwaffe have assaulted and captured sev-

BOND SELLING RALLY PLANNED JUNE 30TH BY LOCAL C. OF C.

In an effort to stimulate the sale of war stamps and bonds in Corsicana, officials of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce are planning to stage a huge patriotic rally Tuesday morning, June 30, at which time all stores will be called upon to close between 8:30 and 9:30 a. m., is was announced today by Robert G. Dillard, chamber of commerce manager.

The bond selling rally is being conducted in connection with a request by Henry Morgenthau, Jr., secretary of the treasury, that the retail trade committees of all Chambers of Commerce join in a concerted movement to sell a billion dollars worth of bonds and stamps, Dillard said.

Details of the rally are still in the formative stages, he said, and will be announced within the next few days.

The rally will touch off a drive scheduled for July 1, at which time every citizen will be the subject of an intensive campaign to sell war bonds and stamps. All merchants will be called upon to organize their employes and give prizes for the highest amount sold. Signing of pledges and joining of the 10 per sent Club will be other features of the drive, he said.

Climaxing the campaign on July 1, will be a fifteen minute period, beginning at 12 o'clock noon, when the stores will be asked to cease the sale of all merchandise and offer only stamps and bonds, Dillard asserted, pointing out that this time had been selected by officials in Washington and would be observed throughout the nation.

The white flag that fluttered out Sunday mborning over Tobruk's shattered barricades as a final, mute concession that a superior axis force had reconquered Libya marks a major turn in the strategems of war on two continents, if not in the whole world.

So extended and intertwined are causes and effects of this galling capitulation that military experts were hard-pressed to trace them all. But it was obvious that the axis triumph was forcing a drastic reshaping, if not postponement or abandonment, of some plans of the United Nations.

Rome, first to claim the capture of Tobruk with six British generals reported among the prisoners, proclaimed today:

Tobruk Occupation Completed.

"Occupation of Tobruk has been completed, and axis troops are marching toward the Egyptian frontier."

The British forces which escaped the axis sweep were digging in along the Egyptian frontier.

The Hitler command credited a German mosquito boat flotilla with complete destruction of a formation of small British coastal craft and freighters fleeing from Tobruk yesterday morning.

One patrol boat, six coastal craft and a 4,500-ton freighter were sunk and three other coastal craft captured with 175 men aboard, the Berlin communique said.

Off the Dutch coast, the Germans said, three of Britain's mosquito boats—motor torpedo craft—were sunk in an engagement last night with German minesweepers and several other British vessels were badly damaged.

Air War of Europe.

In the air war of Europe blow and counter-blow were struck last night, the Germans bombing at Southampton in their heaviest raid of three weeks. RAF formations of 200 to 300 planes attacked the German naval base of Emden Saturday night.

By daylight today a large RAF force had another go at the French coast in the Dunkerque region.

Until the wily German commander for North Africa, Marshal Rommel, starts an eastward offensive against Egypt to exploit his sweep of Eastern Libya or barring some other unforseen move by the axis or the United Nations, the battle of Russia will hold the spotlight.

That collossal conflict entered its second year today.

The German high command announced capture of the last coastal fort in clearing the defenders from the northern side of Sevastopol, Russian Black Sea base, which has stood as a rearguard threat to any renewal of Germany's drive toward the Caucasus. The Russians acknowledged that a wedge had been driven into the defenses there.

Battle in Sevastopol Streets.

There was a roundabout report that the battle of Sevastopol had been carried into the streets of that historic Crimean city with fighting of "unprecedented violence."

How long human flesh could bear up against the frightful pressure of the numerically superior German and Rumanian besiegers of Sevastopol was a grave question. A German success at Sevastopol is almost surely to be followed by the opening of an offensive against the Caucasus.

The axis claimed capture of 28,000 prisoners in Tobruk, a sizeable chunk of the Eighth British Imperial army which the United Na-

FIGHTING WITH FIRE

There is not much gloating in this country over the reports of wounded civilians by tens of thousands fleeing from German cities. Americans are not cruel. Indeed, our people normally are kindly to the point of sentimentality. But it has become clear that cruel procedure is needed in order to drive cruelty from the world.

Never since the Middle Ages has there been such cruelty as that committed habitually by Hitler and his Nazi-Germans. Their military killings, their civilian slaughter and persecution, and their deliberate starving of whole populations, are so unprecedented in modern times that even yet people distant from those regions of terror can hardly imagine what is taking place.

When Hitler and his henchmen are fighting a diabolical war by such methods, it becomes necessary for kindly and civilized men to "fight the Devil with fire." No other procedure is effective. It is particularly necessary in Hitler Land because not for generations has punitive war been carried into Germany.

The Nazis have sought like their predecessors, to do all their fighting and devastation in other people's countries. So the German civilians have hardly known what war was. They knew only the satisfactions of victory. Now they actually begin to know what it is for a country to be ravaged and its people killed in their own homes, and their houses burned over their heads. If predatory warfare can be stopped, this is the way.

KNOWLEDGE AND FREEDOM

Federal Judge Robert N. Wilkin of Ohio, in a commencement address, emphasizes the importance of keeping aflame the torch of learning as well as the torch of liberty. "It is apparent," he says, "that the disastrous condition elsewhere impose upon those who still enjoy freedom a fateful responsibility to safeguard and maintain the light of free learning, where that light still shines.

"Gradually but surely, the realization has been growing that the basic issue of the present world conflict is this: Are we to be governed by the inherent law of our nature, or by the arbitrary will of a self-constituted party leader?"

The arsenal of democracy requires a "citadel of education." In this free country of ours, there is more power in the schools and colleges and press than there is in the government. It may not be so apparent in war time, but it is there just the same — the roots and the sap of the tree of liberty.

THE MASTER - ASSASSIN

"Absolutism tempered by assassination." That famous definition of Russian rule under the czars fits the Nazi regime like a glove. The death of Reinhard Heydrich, Gestapo head in Czechoslovakia, tempted even the mildest and least bloody-minded of men to rejoice. Known as "the executioner," he had fully justified his name. The blood he had shed was provocation for the shedding of his own, and so it happened.

While the Nazis have been violent in reprisals, they could not fail to be impressed by his violent death. Heydrich's succcessor may be more timid in carrying out Hitler's law of blood, knowing that in doing so he risks his own life. And Laval is probably thinking hard these days.

BIG PARTNERSHIP

Was there ever such a merger of military and economic enterprise as the United States and the United Kingdom have achieved? In the past they have always been rivals in many ways. It has been for the most part a friendly rivalry, to be sure; but it is a very long way from that stand-offish friendship of Britain and the U. S., with lurking jealousy and suspicion on both sides, to the "all out" partnership of this present war.

The factories and farms of the two countries are now described as "pooled." Each nation is doing all it can for the common cause. The contributions of both sides are teamed, for war purposes, as if they were one country. Food and shells, guns, shipping and credit are shared. Economic advantages and trade secrets go by the board.

And it isn't only Britain that is engaged in this notable American partnership. The ties in its case are only more formal and notable. Uncle Sam is in partnership with the whole British Empire, directly or indirectly, for the duration of this war. And there is no exsclusiveness even about that, for virtually the same partnership is being extended to Latin-America, and to all the nations of the Old World that are opposed to Hitler's murderous Axis.

Such close associations and partnerships will naturally relax when the war is won and peace is restored. But the bonds should be permanent, in some appropriate form, so that civilization cannot be so endangered again.

MODERN KNIGHTHOOD

It has been thought in recent times that individualism was passing from the military theater. In war, as in peace, men were to move more and more in masses, the men being lost in the crowd. The art of national defense was being so mechanized that man himself was coming to be little more than a machine, almost as undistinguishable as a bee or an ant. The last war, with its mechanization, strengthened that impression. War was to be mere mechanical killing.

There is still such a tendency, as we mass millions for this war. But a strong counter-movement has come that brings back individualism in surprising ways. Men are taken from the mass of soldiery and equipped mechanically until they become again almost as free and independent in their fighting as were the knights of the Middle Ages. And in fighting method and power they are immensely greater.

One man in a bombing plane, with half a dozen "knights" whose functions are mechanical and scientific, can attack a city and wreak incredible devastation, remaining almost invisible in the upper air. He can destroy a great warship, as Colin Kelley did. He can make forays into enemy countries, behind the battle lines. He can spy the enemy far off. He can enter an armored car with his "squires" and cut his way through land forces like another Saladin, but far more destructively. He can engage in torpedo, battle against a foreign enemy as Ensign Gay has just done, in his torpedo plane, and emerge safely from an amazing feat of havoc and courage.

NOT AN EXECUTIVE

I would gladly do the hiring,
But I'd hate to do the firing.

As my friends I'd try to hold them.
I could praise, but couldn't scold them.

Should I see production slowing,
I could never shout: "Get Going!"

I'd raise wages when I shouldn't;
Plan to cut them down I couldn't.

Well, I know my limitation.
Hence my choice of occupation.

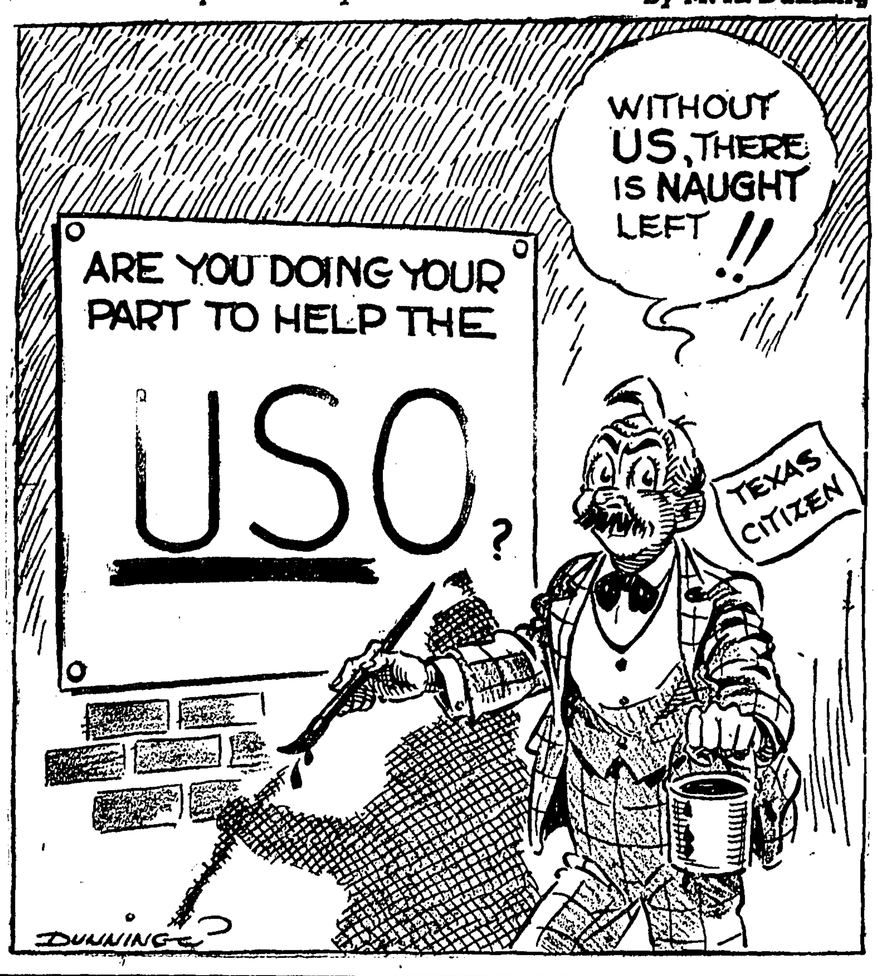

Men? I'd rather understand them
Than from day to day command them.

Rather pain and trouble spare them
Than to crack a whip and scare them.

Profits made? I'd never show it.
I'm no boss, and well I know it!

FROST, June 20.—(Spl.)—W. V. Harrison spent Friday, June 19, in Austin attending a meeting of the committee on classification and accreditation of Texas high schools, of which he is a member.

He also advocated a differentiated course of study to fit the special needs of rural community schools and urged that special emphasis be given in textbooks and curricula to problems of conservation with special emphasis on soil conservation.

What Foods To Eat And Why Are Very Important

What foods should we eat, and why should we eat them? These are important questions for all of us who wish to enjoy good health. Fortunately, Modern scientific study of foods and nutrition has made great progress in answering the questions.

The nutrition course, which began Monday morning at 9 o'clock in the foods room of the Corsicana High School is particularly designed to teach women scientific knowledge of nutrition and how to apply it to everyday use. Sponsored by the Red Cross and open to all interested homemakers, Mrs. Murphy Williams will be instructor.

Some of the things to be taught in the course are: our daily choice of foods must, first of all, meet the needs of our bodies. It must include the basic goods essential to health. This does not mean that individual tastes, native diets, available foods, cost and convenience are disregarded. It does mean, however, that we must have some understanding of the needs of our bodies, and of the foods which supply those needs. It means we must eat, regularly, those basic goods which make and keep the health of the body.

The course is very important in war time because Americans must be strong and physically fit in order to undertake the many tasks that confront us.

Anyone interested in the class which will meet Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings for a 20-hour course, is asked to contact Mrs. D. G. Dunbar, 65, or attend the organization meeting Monday, June 22.

IMPORTANCE BIRTH CERTIFICATES IS BEING REALIZED

AUSTIN, June 19.—(Spl.)—Are you a citizen of the United States? Can you prove it?

The easiest and sometimes the only way you can definitely prove native-born citizenship is by a birth certificate showing that your birth is on record at the State Department of Health.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, this week re-emphasized the importance of every American citizens being in possession of his birth certificate and outlined the simple procedure for obtaining this vital record.

"Requests for certified copies should be made direct to the State Health Department, Bureau of Vital Statistics," Dr. Cox said. "There is no charge except the fifty cents necessary to pay for making a search of the records and a photostatic copy if the record is on file."

Birth certificates are doubly important in the national emergency, serving as proof of citizenship which is necessary for entrance to our armed forces or for employment in any national industry. A record of birth is also useful in establishing the time and place of birth as well as parentage and can be of great assistance in the settlement of estates and other legal matters.

"American people are beginning to realize the importance of birth records since our entry into the war," Dr. Cox declared. "In the month of March alone, the Bureau of Vital Statistics received 19,810 requests for copies of birth records; and in April and May, the requests have continued to increase steadily."

REGISTRATION FOR INDUSTRIAL SUGAR USERS ON MONDAY

Registration of institutional and industrial users of sugar for the monthly allotments of July and August will be conducted at the Navarro county war price and rationing office, beginning Monday, June 22, and extending through Saturday, July 4, according to an announcement today by Wilbur A. Wright, county rationing board chairman.

Headquarters for the issuance of canning sugar purchase permits during ths period of time will be changed from the central rationing office to an auxiliary office to be opened at the Beaton Hotel, adjacent to the Beaton Coffee Shop. A group of Corsicana women have volunteered their services to the rationing board for this work, while regular workers are engaged in registering institutions.

A change in the rationing of sugar to the general public was also announced. Beginning June 28, and extending through July 25, was rationing stamp No. 5 will purchase a total of two pounds of sugar per person. Stamp No. 6 will be valid for a similar amount from July 26, through August 22.

Stamp Values Increased.

Chairman Wright explained that one stamp will purchase nearly an entire month's supply of sugar. This does not increase the sugar allottment, but only extends the use of the rationing book. The purchase of a full month's supply of sugar on one rationing stamp will make it necessary for the users to conserve more closely the supply, he pointed out.

The tire situation in Navarro county is still critical, he said, adding that there is no immediate prospects of a favorable change. He called attention to a new ruling by the Office of Price Administration which rejects the eligibility of army and navy officers for new tires if the tires are used only for transportation from the officer's residence to his post of duty or from one post to another.

Referring to price control regulations, the county chairman admonished all retail and wholesale merchants, who are required to file cost of living inventories, to do so not later than July 1.

Display Ancient Time Piece Here

A water clock, made in London, England, in 1682, is on display at the Sam Daiches jewelry store.

The 260-year old time piece is fashioned of carved wood and hand-wrought copper. The only timing mechanism is a copper cylinder filled with water and a hand-made copper chain, fastened to a pulley that turns the lone hand on the dial.

The dial is marked from 1 to 24, representing each hour of the day. Hence 1 o'clock would show on the dial as 13 o'clock, etc. It is approximately 30 inches in height.

The clock has been on exhibition throughout the country for a number of years and was recently acquired by the Daiches Jewelry Store.

Engraved on the copper base is the name of the manufacturer, the place and date of its construction and an axiom which says: "Tyme passeth swift awaye." Name of the manufacturer was given as "R. Hoywood" and the place as "Fecit, Londini."

tions had been counting on to shield the western flank of Alexandria, Suez and the entire Middle East position.

Moreover, the latest Italian communique announced that captured equipment included 100 tanks, several hundred guns and hundreds of motor vehicles.

It was probable that the booty included shipments recently convoyed at considerable cost into Tobruk when the British still hoped the port could be held, as hitherto, as a thorn in the flank of the Axis drive eastward toward the Egyptian frontier.

But Tobruk's fall could not be assessed fully in terms of prisoners and tanks captured. It was more likely that it had spiked allied hopes for a second front in Europe this year and had prolonged the war.

The axis seemed to have won for itself the complete initiative in the European-African theater and no one could say that a crisis had not been reached.

British sources agreed that the next few weeks would decide whether Germany could be whipped this year or next, or would be able to fight on for years. The last would be a distinct possibility if Rommel could roll eastward against Suez while the Germans in Russia cut into the Caucasus.

Axis Power Underestimated.

The axis power in Libya obviously had been underestimated and it seemed that only by a diversion of formidable British-American resources to the battle of Africa could he be contained in Libya or held to Egypt's western desert.

A mighty allied effort, at the expense of a stroke elsewhere thus seemed imperative if the Germans are to be blocked from effecting supply contact with the Japanese on the Indian ocean bya forcing of the landbridge, Asia Minor.

The battered remainder of the British Eighth Army had failed back to strong points along the Egyptian-Libyan border and the enemy was feeling out the British dispositions. Cairo headquarters said British mobile forces were in contact with an enemy column yesterday about 12 miles northwest of the border strongpoint, Fort Cappuzo.

"There is no further news from Tobruk which must be presumed to have fallen," the communique added.

Calling Churchill Home.

A section of the London Press started calling on Prime Minister Churchill to come home from his strategy talks with President Roosevelt to render an accounting on Libya. Some observers predicted a shakeup in Britain's top command, perhaps the return of General Sir Archibald P. Wavell, who invaded Libya in late 1940 with only 30,000 men after routing an Italian invasion of Egypt.

Felicitations on Russia's valiant battle poured into Moscow on this anniversary. Included was one from Churchill to Premier Joseph Stalin which said:

"You can count on us to assist you by every means in our power."

Secretary of State Cordell Hull in a message to Foreign Commissar Molotov said that Hitler's plans for world conquest had been frustrated by Russia's heroic resistance which had won "the admiration of liberty-loving peoples of the world."

win Rommel would attempt to capitalize on his successes by striking swiftly at Egypt in the hope of dealing Ritchie's remaining forces a death blow before they could be regrouped.

The fall of Tobruk, which the British held since Jan. 22, 1941, and which had withstood a seven-month siege last year, gives Rommel an important supply port close to the Egyptian frontier and thereby vastly improves his chances for a successful thrust toward Suez.

Military quarters here said Rommel might find it difficult to move supplies through Tobruk as long as allied air forces can contest control of the skies It was presumed, however, that the axis leader would hasten to concentrate strong fighter plane forces at nearby El Adem and othre desert airports to protect his oversea supply line.

No British Air Fighters

The question of the RAF's existing strength in this area, moreover, was rendered doubtful by Rome reports that axis divebombers had met no British fighters over Tobruk in the smashing attacks which paved the way for its capture.

Egypt's well-trained army of 40,000 regulars, augmented by 100,000 guardsmen, is ready for action, and actually is performing valuable service in support of the British patrolling vast stretches of the Western desert.

Egyptian anti-aircraft batteries are in position to defend both the Nile valley and the Suez Canal and have, in fact, already shot down raiding axis planes.

The official position of the government, pledged to give Britain all aid short of war, is that it will not make any declaration against the axis powers unless invaded.

Ask Cancellation Political Rallies.

AUSTIN, June 22.—(AP)—Mark McGee, state rationing administrator, said today he had requested county and precinct candidates in Texas to cancel all local political rallies as a tire conservation measure.

Candidates in many of the smaller counties already have complied with the request, McGee said, adding:

"This wouldn't abolish political speeches by local candidates, candidates could speak as usual at picnics and other local events. What we want to do is to stop purely political rallies."

Tarrant County Accedes.

FORT WORTH, June 22.—(AP)—Tarrant county office seekers acceded today to a request of statt OPA director Mark McGee and voted to eliminate a scheduled series of political rallies as a means of saving rubber.

THE WAR TODAY

ing for so many months One of the most significant news dispatches of the day is the report of a Greek submarine commander, who has just returned to Alexandria, that "the nazis seem to have lots of aircraft on Crete and in Greece." From those positions the Germans could attack either the Middle East of Egypt.

The greatest danger is that Hitler may not only stage a violent air offensive against Egypt, but may also reinforce Rommel with air-borne troops and supplies. Therefore control of the air over Egypt becomes a matter of paramount importance, and it will be surprising if the British aren't urging the immediate dispatch of substantial air renforcements from the United States.

Allied mastery of the air over Egypt would entirely change the set-up.

Parade Saturday Waxahachie Led By Corsicanans

The gasoline age was shoved into the discard momentarily Saturday in Waxahachie when the citizenship staged a "rubberless" parade in launching a campaign for the collection of scrap rubber.

Horse drawn vehicles augmented by many mounted participants accounted for some 150 persons taking part in the event.

To make the affair authentic, depicting days gone by when the automobile was unknown and the horse was the only means of transportation, the parade was led by Fred M. Allison, Sr., and Mrs. Fred M. Allison, Jr., garbed in cowboy regalia of the Old West, mounted on horses with saddles of finest workmanship.

Mr. Allison rode "King," and his daughter-in-law was mounted on "Reno." Mr. Allison's saddle was black leather with silver mounting, while Mrs. Allison used a saddle of russett leather, also decorated with silver. The combined artistry of the saddlemaker and silversmith at its best marked the equipment as the finest obtainable and caused much favorable comment.

On returning to Corsicana, the couple paraded their mounts in the business district, attracting much attention, especially among aviation cadets at the Navarro Hotel. Many of these boys from the East and North, had never before seen a real cowboy outfit.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Edens and Mrs. Fred M. Allison, Sr., went to Waxahachie to view the parade.

HEALTH, BEAUTY AND POISE

HOW TO IMPROVE YOUR PERSONALITY
By VERONICA DENGEL

A VOLUNTEER'S SMARTNESS

And how do you look in your uniform? Pretty, efficient, immaculate—and willing? I hope you do—but if you are not entirely pleased with what you see in your mirror—let's find the trouble. Why shouldn't you be as effective as Frances Gifford, who is scheduled soon to appear in "American Empire?"

Your uniform needs no frills or eye-catching trinkets

Perhaps your hairdo is complicated—why not try a shorter cut—one that needs little setting. Your cap sets more jauntily on soft, fluffy, casual curls.

Does your uniform fit you well? If not, visit your tailor, and have the necessary aujustments made. Trim fit is vital for the smartness of your uniform.

Could you be wearing too much jewelry? Only a watch is a necessity—and, of course, your wedding ring. But avoid earrings, bracelets, and unnecessary gadgets—they destroy the efficiency of your appearance—make you look as though you were playacting.

How about your make-up? Enough to enhance your good looks—but no more than that. No excess rouge, nor too much powder or lipstick—and certainly no eyeshadow or mascara.

And is your uniform pressed and spotless? Do I need to say how important that is? Your shoes should be shined daily just as are the men's. Your stocking seams must be straight—and they should be serviceable stockings—not sheer nylons. Your gloves should be clean.

That blouse—dont' wear it unless it is fresh. Men change their shirts every day—now, don't they? Well, you should, too.

All requests for personal "Health Beauty and Poise" information desired by Veronica Dengel's column followers must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope (s. a. s. e.) Address: Veronica Dengel in care of this newspaper.

Withdrew From Race.

J. P. (John) Kelly, candidate for the office of constable, Precinct 1, Saturday announced his withdrawal from the campaign in the approaching democratic primaries.

What's a musical comedy got to do with winning a war?

PLENTY! We're building an army of men—not machines. And men have minds. And minds need freshening ... change ... relaxation.

So one of the biggest undertakings of the USO is its sponsoring of free entertainment, through the cooperation of the movie and theatrical industries, at army camps, naval bases—wherever the fighting men of the USA go to train or dig in.

USO Camp Shows, Inc. is actually the biggest single theatrical enterprise the world has ever seen. It books 264 shows for the boys every week, which play to an average nightly attendance of 50,000.

It contacts movie stars, theatrical headliners, big name bands and their leaders. It routes all these ... plans their itinerary ... arranges the most convenient times when soldiers and sailors can take time out to sit and be entertained. For it realizes that the one great advantage of the American fighting man is his ability to think for himself, to make the most of any situation, to fight as a liberty-loving individual.

And this is one of his great differences from our enemy.

To help carry on the all-important work of maintaining the morale of our fighting forces, the USO needs your help ... it needs your contribution.

Your dollar has many demands on it this year. Many of these demands must be met—others deserve to be met. And among these latter, the plea of the USO for whatever sum you can contribute merits your earnest consideration.

For we have a war to win, and the USO is directly concerned with the men who must—and will—win it.

Dig deep—for the men who are digging in!

Send your contribution to your local chairman or to USO, Empire State Building, New York City.
